

The following is a list of our research program's articles in print. The articles are sorted by PubMed Identifier (PMID). We have included the Web link to each citation in PubMed. If you click on the PMID number, you will be taken to the abstract and citation information in PubMed.

For the general public: A resource of the National Library of Medicine, PubMed does not include copies of journal articles for copyright reasons. However, there are many ways to obtain the full text article. Click here for PubMed Help to learn how to get a journal article.
